BROOKLYN TRENDS: POP-UP PIANOS BOROUGH CONCERT

June 24

6-7pm

DUMBO Archway

Sing for Hope Volunteer Artists perform!

To celebrate the Brooklyn renaissance, Sing for Hope holds its third Pop-Up Piano Borough Concert in the DUMBO Archway. In tandem with the dramatic visual and crochet artist Olek, Elaine Kwon performs throughout the evening wearing a custom crocheted outfit matching Olek's piano. Also performing are the piano-based folk pop group Greene Girl, whose name is derivative of the neighborhoods Fort Greene and Greenpoint. Melanie Edwards Laboratories shows off their unique blend of musical styles and scientific musical explorations, featuring Melanie Edwards piano/vocals, percussionist Jibrail Nor, and guitar/bass/trumpeter Greg Bandolik. Finally, Brooklyn based artist Lacrymosa showcases her unique singing/songwriting/piano talents. Do not miss this event!

Concert takes place in the DUMBO Archway.

Free and open to the public. Special thanks to the DUMBO Improvement District.

@CariCole So glad you can bring your music to our #PopUpPiano!!
